OUR PLAYBILL FOR THE 2023-24 SEASON

Ripcord BY David Lindsey-Abaire

For 4 years, irritable and sarcastic Abby Binder has kept a room to herself at the Bristol Place Senior Living Facility, through sheer force of her rude personality. Nursing disappointment at the direction her life has taken, she has no room for distraction. When bubbly, bright, and unbearably cheerful Marilyn Dunne is placed in her room, Abby tries her usual tricks, but fails to scare her annoying new roommate away. She gets no sympathy from Scotty, the resident aide, who refuses to use any clout he may or may not have with management to remove Marilyn. Ripcord is an often slapstick, always surprising comedy, an enemies-to-friends story for a pair of excellently well-rounded, mature women.

October 20,21,22,27,28,29, November 3,4 with two on the 4th (2:00PM Matinee and 8:00PM evening show).

The Bucket List of Booze Club BY Maureen Paraventi

It's 2008 Detroit, and a group of friends in their early 50s, who have been friends since they were teenagers in the 1970s gather once a week to try a new kind of booze - unusual spirits like Grappa, or Absinthe, or Slivovitz. It's a bucket list because one of them has cancer; single mother Collette may not have much time left to live out her motto: "try everything once." Her friend Jen, a successful lawyer and the only single one in the group, arranges this trip through the spirits. They're joined by new grandmother, Mary Ann, who's dating a much younger man, and Amy, a member of the "sandwich generation," caring for adult children, child-like husband, and aging parents. Collette's daughter Ree-Ree, also a lawyer in the early stages of her career, joins them as they chat and commiserate, like girlfriends do. They also disagree, argue, and fight, but they're there for each other when things get rough.

January 26,27,28 February 2,3,4,9,10 with two on the 10th (2:00PM Matinee and 8:00PM evening show)

An Inspector Calls BY J.B Priestley

Set in April 1912, at the home of the well-to-do Birling family. Arthur Birling, a self-made businessman, his wife Sybil, their daughter Sheila and son Eric are enjoying a spot of port in the drawing room after dinner. They are joined by Gerald Croft, son of Sir George Croft, heir to one of the most successful family businesses in England, and Sheila's new fiancé. Despite the family's initial refusal to believe that they are, in any way, involved in the unfortunate suicide of a young, working class woman, slowly but surely the Inspector's questions get to the truth of the matter. As his investigation unfolds, it soon becomes clear that each member of the family (Gerald included) have secrets linking them to the tragic suicide. His startling revelations not only shatter their lives, but also raise profound questions about social conscience and class values that cannot be ignored.
